

Danielle Towne

Danielle Towne moved to Los Angeles in 2002 from Phoenix, AZ. She wasted no time establishing herself as one of the premier dancers and choreographers in the industry. As a dancer, Danielle has worked with many top artists including Puff Daddy, Lady Gaga, Britney Spears, The Black Eyed Peas, Aretha Franklin, Katy Perry, NIN, Avril Lavigne, Ciara, and more. She has appeared on television shows and commercials like Glee, Fresh Beat Band, Dancing With the Stars, Billboard Awards, SYTYCD, X Factor, Chevy, and Sprint to name a few.

Danielle uses her extensive dance experience to support her impressive artistic vision as a choreographer. She has directed, choreographed, and assisted on a wide range of jobs including Broadway style performances like the latest Beauty and the Beast Premiere, jazz numbers for Paula Abdul and stage shows for Disney. She co-directed and choreographed a multi-million dollar show in Macau, China called "House of Magic," as well as multiple stage shows for the House of Blues and TV performances like Criminal Minds and The Mindy Project. Danielle has choreographed productions for Industrials, Benefits, and festivals including HP, American Heart Association, Carlton Hair Show, and many more.

Lastly, Danielle has always maintained her love and passion for teaching. She still finds time to teach master classes and choreograph winning dances for kids and studios across the globe. She feels honored to share her knowledge and experiences of the industry to help inspire the next generation of dancers.
