

Jackie Sleight

Jackie Sleight is fearless. Her dedication to education in the dance industry has been endless. Dance Magazine quoted Jackie as "the teachers' teacher," and she has received numerous awards honoring her commitment to the industry, including the IDA (Industry Dance Awards) Lifetime Achievement Award.

Jackie has an amazing eye for discovering young talent early on, and knows how to expand their specialties as they enter the entertainment field. Her students have worked in professional dance companies, on Broadway, in movies, music videos, and commercials, and some are the most sought after choreographers in the industry today. Jackie is also the owner of L.A. DanceMagic Dance Convention, which exemplifies her love of teaching and motivating young, aspiring dancers. Still Jackie will say that her greatest blessings are her sons Joshua and Aaron