

Tymme and Aury Reitz

Tymme and Aury Reitz have worked in the dance industry for artists such as Missy Elliot, Madonna, Will Smith, The Backstreet Boys, and Shanice with extensive credits in stage, film, television, commercial ads and televised award ceremonies. In 2004, they became the founders of Word In Motion Dance Company and recently launched Conekt-LA Art Center. They host and produce several impactful events including Word In Motion's Urban Dance Festival and Step Of Hope Benefit Concert that exist to fight against human trafficking. Tymme and Aury Reitz are also the lead pastors of Life150 Church in N Hollywood. A gathering like no other, where you can find dancers moving freely, contemporary music fused with rap, and a message designed for anyone to encounter a loving God in a real way.
